1. Club Delegate attending International Convention

It is expected all clubs be represented at Conventions by a delegate or proxy.

District Board recommends that the delegate's club should contribute the delegate's entire early bird registration fee for International Convention or for small clubs at 50% of this fee. This registration fee should then be a regular line item in the Club budget. Clubs at their discretion may also support their delegate to attend the main Convention dinner.

If the club delegate carries a proxy or proxies for other clubs then the second (and third) club's contribution should be paid directly to the delegate, not the club, acknowledging that carrying a proxy does require extra work by the delegate on behalf of the extra club(s) represented.

District Board recommends that the contribution made by a club nominating a proxy to an International Convention should be an amount equivalent to not less than 20% of the early bird registration fee.

It is expected that every delegate will present a report to their own club and to any club for which they have carried a proxy vote.
